FOREWORD

—H—

Nothing could be more fitting and proper for students in this section of the country than to choose, as a motion for the Annual theme, that of Empire Builders. Those men who regardless of privation, danger, and even lurking death, pushed on to blaze the trail for those who were to follow should ever be remembered with gratitude by us who are profiting by their attainments. The days of the covered wagon, the dangers of Indian raids, the struggle against foreign claimants—all are stories of the past for us. For us, the Inland Empire is a region of prosperity and peace—thanks to our Empire Builders.

In our book we have aimed to show through our page drawings the change which has come about in that part of the Inland Empire in which we are most interested—Spokane.

First we have shown the tepees of the Indians, pitched near the banks of the rushing Spokane river.

In memory to those who have sailed out "into fiery sunset," we have depicted the Indian with hand stretched out in salutation to the Spirit behind the setting sun.

Then comes the Indian raids and the desolation that follows.

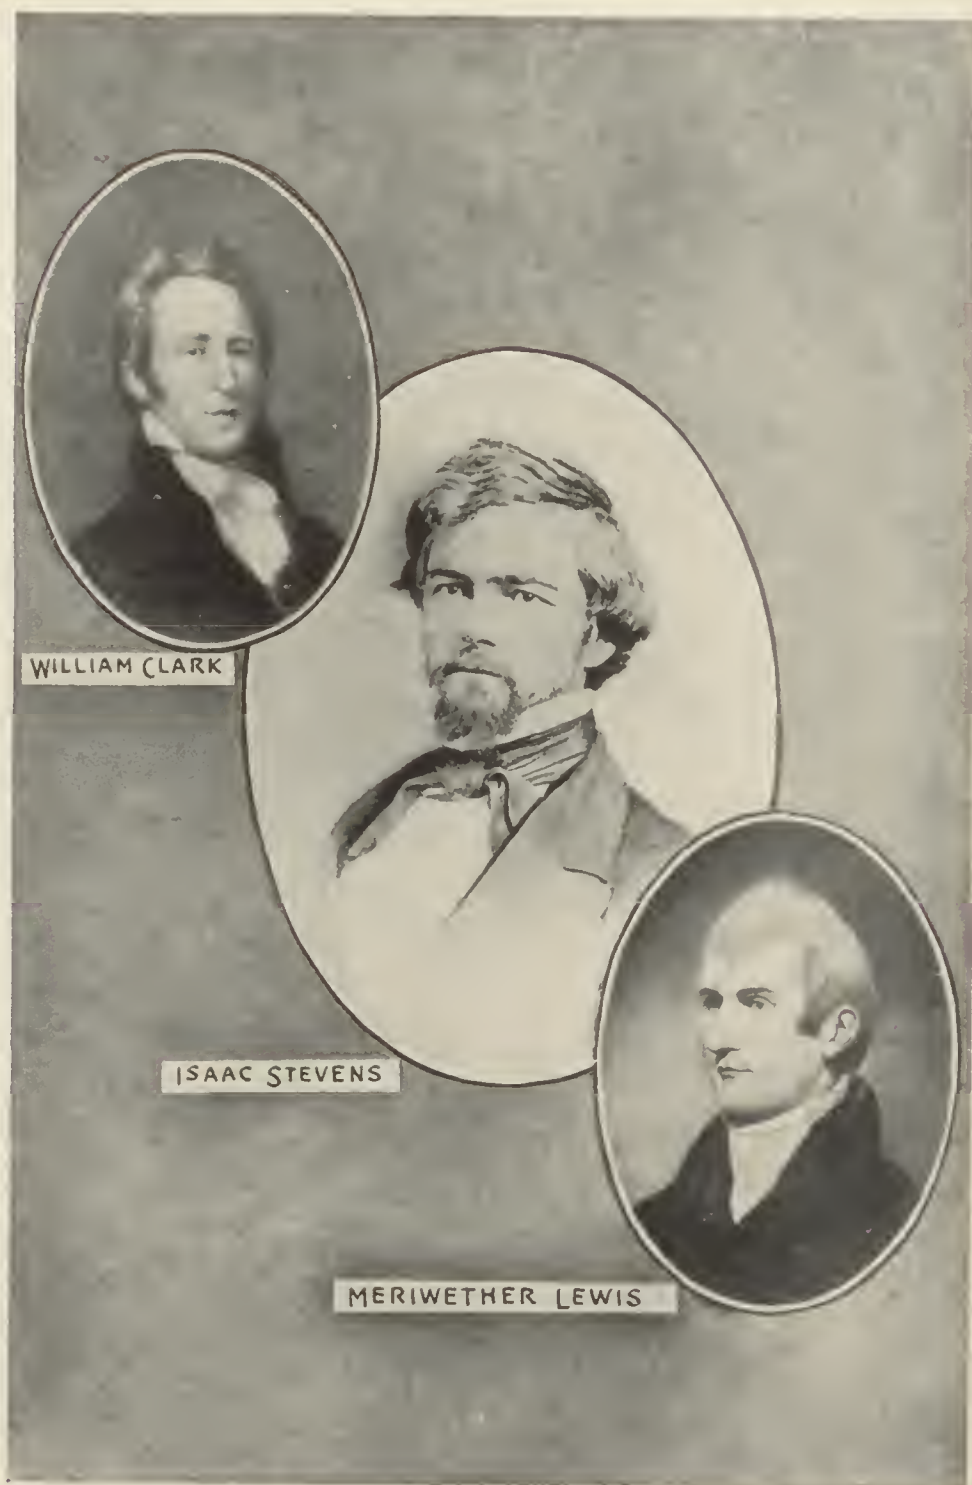

The white man dreaming his dream for Empire has conquered the hostile Indians, and the covered wagon presses on its triumphal march.

The stockade rises in our next drawing—and in the light radiating from it, we see the spirit of the past—with arms stretched forth in prayer for the future.

Our last drawing links the past with the present, and visions the future. The mists around the old saw mill of Spokane Falls lift for an instant, and we see the lofty tower of one of our buildings of today—and in the brightness of the setting sun, as it scatters the shadows, we see the hopes for tomorrow—the realization of a dream.

JOHN POFFENROTH played guard and was equally good on offense and defense. John won his first award this year, and will be back next season.

WESLEY SCHUBBE is far and widely known as Hillyard's "big boy." In spite of a painful and serious injury from the year before he came back this season to turn in the best performance of his high school career. Exceptionally fast for his size, he had to be stopped before reaching the of scrimmage, or else his fierce drive and punishing stiff arm made him almost a certainty for a touchdown.

JOE LAMPING won his first award this year playing halfback. Although light, he could always give a good account of himself when called upon.

GERALD FREEBOG has played a steady game at guard for the past two seasons and will be back for next season's eleven.

DEL JONES won his second award this year. Del was right there when it came to knocking down passes or catching them and running them back for gains. This is Del's last year with the Panthers.

ERIC McDAVIS won his second letter at end. "Mickey" is a hard scrapper and fights until the end. When Mickey hits a person, he feels it.

JOHN KELLY, the big red-headed Irishman, proved a hard man to move out of play. John shows much promise for next fall.

FRANK HENRY is small but more than makes up for it with the good old fight. Through his speed and shifting, Frank was responsible for many gains. Frank will be back next year, as a sure bet for the all-city.

STACK BALDWIN received his first year award. Stack did the passing for the team, and his accurate throws were responsible for many gains. He also did some fine relief kicking.

RAY ANDERSON was tall and rangy and when he lengthened out was a hard man to get by. Ray's loss will be keenly felt next year.

PERCY GILMAN'S defensive work has been the feature of many games. "Perk" has played tackle for three years and always displays a fighting spirit.

ROBERT WAKELY got a late start this season, but when he did get started he showed the pepper and spirit that fights to the end. "Nig" was chosen captain of the All-City team in the Shrine contest.

PETE POFFENROTH was small and built as solid as a rock and was moved out of play about as easily as Gibraltar. He played a good game at center.

ROY SANDSTROM, midget quarterback, was a specialist when it came to running back punts. Sandy's clever shifting fooled many of the big boys.

FLOYD MORRISON played guard and although small was a game fighter and a sure tackler. Floyd will be back for a bigger and better season next year.

TATE UMBERGER was injured in the early part of the season, but finished up with a bang. Tate was a shifty halfback, and his dodging in and out netted many a gain. Tate will be back next year for more action.

HARRY HODGINS received his fourth award this year. Harry's educated toe and his big hands have been a great help in the punting and passing problem the last four years.

KENNETH JAMES played end and had a knack of sifting through the interference and making tackles. "Kenny" is another to be lost by graduation.

MARK BAUER won his first award this year. He played end, was hard as nails, and a sure tackler. Mark's ankle was sprained in a scrimmage which kept him out of the Seattle game. Mark will be lost by graduation.

BILL HANEY, through his steady and consistent playing was elected honorary captain for the past season. This completed Bill's four years of high school football. He also received the Bland Medal for being the greatest inspiration to the team. Bill well deserves all these honors.

AL ORR won his fourth award this year. Although Al has been handicapped by a bad shoulder, he has always been a steady and hard fighting end.

LES HERBERT played end throughout the season. Les was fast and was rated the best pass receiver Hillyard had. Many were the gains made by the passes Les caught.

KENNETH HENDERSON won his first award. When ever he was called upon he was always sure to give a good account of himself. Kenny will be lost next season.

HENRY POFFENROTH, won his first award this year. He played utility at tackle.

PULLMAN GAME

—H—

On September 21, the Hillyard Panthers traveled to Pullman with the determination to avenge last year's defeat. They returned on the long end of a 6-0 score. During the first half the ball see-sawed back and forth with much punting. Hillyard's lone tally came in the final period on a pass from Jones to Castor. A line buck for the extra point failed.

—H—

GONZAGA GAME

—H—

Sidestepping the five year jinx the growling Panthers annihilated the snarling Bullpups 7 to 0, marking the opening quest for the city title on September 27. The weather was ideal and a crowd of 2000 students and supporters witnessed the contest.

Gonzaga won the toss and chose to kick. Castor returned the kick to the 35 yard line, Hodgins failed to kick and circled right end for first down. On the following play Gonzaga received Hillyard's fumble and placed the ball on the 17 yard line via the air route.

In four plays Seale netted first down on the two yard line. Hillyard held for three downs, and recovered Seale's fumble on the next play. Hodgins' punt reassured safety to his teammates and supporters. The quarter ended with the Panthers in possession of the ball on their 40 yard line.

During the next quarter Gonzaga tried many passes from punt formation. As the minutes fled Del Jones grabbed one of these passes and raced 40 yards behind perfect emergency interference for the game's lone touchdown. Jones passed to Castor for the extra point. The period ended several plays later.

Hillyard kicked off to open the third period. The ball see-sawed back and forth during this period, neither team seeming to have an edge on its rival. The final canto saw Gonzaga open up her dangerous passing attack, but Hillyard's rejuvenated pass defense easily took care of this. Gonzaga narrowly missed a chance at scoring when Hodgins fumbled a bad pass from center on the fourth down. Two plays later the game ended with the Panther's first city victory.

There were no offensive luminaries for Gonzaga as the Hillyard line was impregnable.

FAIRHAVEN GAME

—H—

The fighting Hillyard Panthers dropped a close game, in the Turkey Day battle for the State championship, to Fairhaven High 7-0.

Fairhaven's lone touchdown came in the second quarter by a pass.

The rest of the contest was nip and tuck. The game ended with Hillyard defeated, but nearly as great as Fairhaven was in victory, simply because they fought and put all they had into the game.

NORTH CENTRAL GAME

—H—

The Hillyard Panthers met their Waterloo at the hands of the North Central Indians, October 24 in a 32 to 0 game. The Indian team being much heavier, the Panthers were unable to hold back their crashing attacks. The first half of the game opened with Hillyard receiving, but after a few line plays they were forced to kick. Cox, the North Central quarterback, took the ball around right end for a touchdown. Hillyard received the ball on the 25 yard line but were stopped before they could make any yardage and were forced to kick. The Indians then made two first downs after which they wound up with another touchdown.

The second quarter began with a touchdown for North Central, and Hillyard received again; but before they could get started, North Central intercepted a pass. On an end run they made another touchdown which ended the half. The Panthers held the onrush of the Indians the next quarter, allowing only one touchdown. It was a different playing team that met the Indians the last quarter. The Panthers were full of fight and had that never-say-die spirit. Although North Central was able to push them around the field a bit they were unable to make another point.

LEWIS AND CLARK GAME

—H—

Banishing the ever existing athletic inferiority, the Hillyard eleven downed the Lewis and Clark Tigers under a 6 to 0 score on Harmon field, October 12. The grandstands were packed and presented a mass of color. The orange and black of the South Siders formed a brilliant contrast to the purple and white of the Hillyard rooters.

The game opened with a bang! A string of passes by the Purple and White boys bewildered the Orange and Black gridders and took them to their own fifteen yard line where Hillyard fumbled and they recovered. A blocked punt by Ray Poole, two penalties, and a series of line smashes by Dutch Schubbe spelled disaster for the Tigers and fulfilled the ambition of every teacher and student of Hillyard high to beat Lewis and Clark. The rest of the contest was somewhat of a punting duel and although the play was nearly all in Hillyard territory, the Tigers lacked the necessary punch to put it over. This win put the Panthers in first place in the climb for the city title.

with tallies each. Yale looked best for Spangle. Many substitutes were used in an effort to experience material for the city series.

—H—

CHRISTMAS TRIP

—H—

On December 26, the season started out with a bang, Hillyard winning the first game of their Christmas trip from Sandpoint by a score of 15 to 10.

Hillyard's cage tossers defeated the Bonners Ferry team 28 to 17, December 27 to complete a successful invasion of Idaho. Baldwin, with ten points and Wakely, with eight lead the Panther scoring, but Sandstrom with six points played the most inspirational ball.

—H—

COLVILLE GAME

—H—

The Panthers hoopsters dropped an overtime game to the Colville quintet 19 to 18 in the Colville gymnasium. At half time, Hillyard led with the score 9 to 3. Colville forged into the lead in the third quarter, but in the closing minutes the Panthers spurted and knotted the count at 18 all. SPRING VACATION GAMES

—H—

During the spring vacation the Hillyard baseballers won three tilts, and dropped two. The first encounter with Springdale was won by the Panther nine by a 5 to 0 score as a result of a five run rally in the seventh inning.

The second game with Spokane University was a second victory for the team, Hillyard being on the long end of a 1 to 0 score.

The next game was lost to the excellent Fort Wright nine, the score being 9 to 5. This game, although lost, gave the team good experience for the city opener on April 14.

On April 9, the team journeyed to Chewelah and returned victorious with a 13 to 5 score. This game showed that the Panthers had hit their stride.

The last encounter of the vacation schedule was played on the Spokane University field with the college nine. They dropped the close contest with a 10 to 6 score. This was the last game before the Gonzaga Tilt.

Tennis

With five lettermen back, prospects for the 1930 tennis season are bright. The lettermen are: Armonde Albo, Ariste Albo, Tate Umberger, Pearl Miller and Georgiana Mathers. Interest has been stimulated by securing the Mission courts for practice during week days and for official matches.

Much competition has been shown among the boys for places on the squad. Armonde Albo, two-year letterman, is ranking player but his brother, Ariste, pushes him hard for first place. Those who have won positions on the squad are: Armonde Albo, Ariste Albo, Paul Gillingham, Tate Umberger, Carl Sandstrom and Gordon Mitchell.

With much greater interest manifested in girls' tennis this year, a spirited race has taken place. Six girls, Pearl Miller, Nellie Ewell, Georgiana Mathers, Gwendoline Donnan, Leona Rudy and Lucille Green, make up the squad. The girls have been aided by special tennis classes in the physical education course.

Hillyard has scheduled matches with Otis Orchards, West Valley, Harrington, Gonzaga, North Central and Lewis and Clark.

—H—

Miss Stevens: Evelyn, can you decline "Hng"?
Evelyn Olson: No ma'am I never decline it.

On the West Valley courts, the Hillyard racquet squad was defeated by the West Valley team. The Panthers players won two double matches and one single contest. The results in the order of the ranking players were as follows:

Ariste Albo dropped his match to Logan 1-6, 2-6; Armonde Albo was defeated by Bryann 5-6, 2-6. Harmon Field

The development of Harmon Field has been one of the major activities at Hillyard high school. The field, consisting of two full blocks, was acquired in 1925 through the donation of $2000 from the Harmon foundation of New York city for the purchase of the site. The development of the field has been directly in charge of the Hillyard high school.

In three successive years the field has won prizes in competition with other Harmon fields throughout the United States for out-standing progress in development. In 1928 a three hundred dollar prize was won by this field.

The field consists of one of the finest turf foot-ball grounds in the city, a quarter mile track, a baseball diamond, a practice golf course, bleachers to seat approximately fifteen hundred and a dandy club house.

The Spokane Hillyard Lions club has greatly aided in the development of the Harmon Field. Lumber and material used in building the club house on Harmon Field was donated by the Spokane and Hillyard Lion clubs and the labor was performed by the manual arts classes of Hillyard high school.

A drinking fountain was the present from the graduating class of June 1928. The field is a splendid source of pride to the students of Hillyard high school and they should use it and not abuse it.

Empire Builders

—II—

Empire Builders—From the day man first dreamed of establishing his power in realms beyond his immediate horizon, the pages of history have been emblazoned with the names of those who dared to set out to find new worlds to conquer. Alexander, Mighty Caesar, Charlemagne, Columbus, Sir Francis Drake—their names are engraved on the tablets of the Immortals.

America is truly the land of Empire Builders. From that November day when the brave little band of Pilgrims landed at Plymouth rock, till the present, man has moved on—conquering the forests, the prairies, and the valleys—bridging streams, laying the path for future progress.

In the Inland Empire is written the story of many brave pioneers—who are known to the world as true Empire Builders.

ROBERT GRAY (1755-1806) led a life filled with the romance of the sea. In his ship, "Columbia," he set out on an expedition the purpose of which was to increase the fur trade and enrich its owners. The result was the laying of the foundation of the Empire of the west—for America.

To Captain Gray belongs the honor of being the first man to carry the Stars and Stripes around the globe. To his credit is the founding of a settlement which he named Bullfinch Harbor, (later the name was changed to Gray's Harbor in his honor) and the discovery of the river he named Columbia, for his ship. These two discoveries were of vast importance in determining American supremacy in the west.

MERRIWETHER LEWIS (1774-1809) and WILLIAM CLARK (1770-1838) set out over a trackless region to find a land beyond their most optimistic dreams: great stretches of prairie, lofty mountains, fertile valleys and abundant streams—and they saved America the Pacific Northwest. Not only were they Empire Builders—but Empire Saviors.

JOHN JACOB ASTOR (1763-1818) carved from the wilderness a fortune for himself, and by the establishing of trading posts established the sovereignty of the United States over the rival foreign powers.

ISACC STEVENS (1818-1862) first governor of Washington territory led a surveying expedition for a railway route from the Mississippi to the Pacific coast. And with the laying of those shining rails of steel through swamp and forest—the East and West were linked.

JAMES J. HILL (1838-1916) has been called the greatest Empire Builder of them all. He had the vision to see the practicability of the so called impossible. He dreamed, but he realized his dream. From St. Paul on the Mississippi, to the edge of Puget Sound, he laid the rails of Progress. In January 1929—thirteen years after his death—his last dream was realized—the Cascade Mountains were conquered. The longest tunnel in the western world, a marvel of engineering skill, was opened. For eight miles the trancontinental train travels through the heart of a solid mountain of stone.

The Inland Empire acknowledges the debt it owes these men—for they builded better than they knew—and the monument to them is the sun kissed valley, with its snow capped distant peaks—filled with life abundant—Our Inland Empire.

J. D. MEYER

E. R. JINNETT

DEDICATION

To Mr. Meyer, our principal, and Mr. Jinnett, our vice principal, who, by their understanding and interest in the needs of the student body, have laid the foundations for the building of a better, greater, more far reaching Hillyard high school, and who are therefore in that respect Empire Builders of character and of citizenship, we, the staff of Paws and Claws dedicate our book.

CLASSES

Student Leaders

Left to Right: Bill Haney, Georgiana Mathers, Lee Austin, Katherine Youngman.

Four of the most outstanding offices of the school are those of the president of the Boys' Federation and Girls' League, and the editors of the two school publications, the Paws and Claws, and the Hi Times.

BILL HANEY

Bill Haney, president of the Boys' Federation, is also president of the Student Council. Bill was captain of the football team and was awarded the Bland Medal for having been the most inspiration to the players. He won a four-year letter in that sport. He also has the honor of being president of the "H" club.

LEE AUSTIN

Lee Austin, editor of the Hi Times, has taken an active part in journalism. He was one of the four students from Hillyard chosen to edit the all-city high school edition of the Chronicle, at which he filled the position of police reporter. He worked strenuously on getting out the bond issue of the Hi Times. 13,000 copies were edited and distributed throughout the city. He was asked by the Scholastic Editor (National Journalism Magazine) to write an article on the high school paper which appeared in the May issue of that magazine.

KATHERINE YOUNGMAN

Katherine Youngman, president of the Girls' League, was also a member of the winning debate team, and has been prominent in debate for four years. She has been active in dramatics and took part in the school play last fall. Katherine was one of the students who worked untiringly in the campaign for the bond issue. She spoke at luncheons and service organizations in order to arouse interest for our new school.

GEORGIANA MATHERS

Georgiana Mathers, editor of the Paws and Claws, has been one of the most active students in high school. She was been vice-president of the Girls' League for two semesters, appeared in the senior class play, and holds membership in the National Honor Society. Quill and Scroll, is a three-year letterman of the tennis team and one of the two girls who belong to the "H" club. She has been a member of the Panther Service club for two years and has been prominent in girls' athletics. She was a charter member of the Girls' Athletic club.

Eighty-seven freshmen entered Hillyard high in January, 1930, from the following grade schools: Arlington, Bemiss, Cooper, Hamilton, Longfellow, South Regal and Whitman.

Though this is our first semester in Hillyard high school, we have made a good start. The athletic ability of this class has already become apparent. Vernal Moberly, our president, earned his numeral in basketball, and is on the baseball squad. Paul Ratsch is a splendid prospect for the football team next fall. Others, too, have shown remarkable talent along the dramatic line, and are progressing rapidly. Our class advisors are Miss Finnegan and Mr. Saltz. The class officers are: Vernal Moberly, president; Eugene West, vice president; Daniel Frank, secretary-treasure; Fern Candreaux, student council representative; Wesley Ceder, Boys' Federation representative.

In the spring of 1927, the Alpha Chapter of the National Honor Society was organized under the auspices of the Harding Debate club. This society is sponsored by the Department of Secondary-School Principles of the National Education Association, and membership in it is the highest honor that can be bestowed upon a high school student. It is at present the only chapter of its kind in Spokane, and has as its aim the promotion of a higher standard of Character, Leadership, Scholarship and Service.

Students chosen to this society are elected by members of the faculty, on the basis of Character, Leadership, Scholarship and Service. To be eligible the student must be in the upper one-third of his class scholastically.

The society corresponds to Phi Beta Kappa, honor society in college.

The chapter members of the society were: Dexter Bright, Verna Bundy, Ida Callail, Osear Kellgren, Sam Yancey, Thelma Johnston, Cecilia Stevenson, Harold Elsdon, Robert McPherson and Aline Sandstrom.

In the spring of 1929, nine new members were admitted. They were: Lucille D. Huss, Pauline Merklin, Lucille Neville, Gloria Howard, Alick Adams, Katherine Youngman, Faith Helms, Mary Trontfetter, Benton Gillingham, Myra Lindsey and Gwendolyn White.

At the election held on December 17, 1929 the following students became members: Dorothy Orr, Lonis Stirling, Georgiana Mathers, Robert Vance, Florence Bope, Ray Anderson, Pete Pofeuroth, Eric McDavis and Jean Koyl.

On April 15, 1930, the following members were elected by the regular tap system: Erma Richter, Irma McDougall, Lillian Steinmeyer, Gladys Moe, Dorothy Cariveau, Robert Rothwell, Jean Skerry, Gail Hunt and Evelyn Irwin.

Every spring the society holds a banquet in honor of new members, which is the most important event, except for the election of members, in the club year.

The annual Panther Service club outing was held last fall at Boulder Beach. A pay convocation was sponsored by the club in February, at which time seventeen new members were admitted.

Members are: Eric McDavis, Leslie Hebert,

Second Row: Robert Rothwell, Eric McDavis, Peggy Walker, Armonde Albo.

Hillyard debate teams this year took the state championship by defeating both Deer Park and Central Valley, with whom they were tied.

The first debate was to be held against Davenport but the other school forfeited, giving Hillyard the equivalent of a 2-0 victory. The negative team defeated Ritzville on November 22, thus receiving an impetus which only grew stronger as the season neared its close.

WINNERS OF HOWARD CUP

On January 18, Hillyard's negative team went to North Central and the Lewis and Clark negative group came to Hillyard in the city title contest. Although the Indians were victorious over our negative team, it was by only one vote, so that by defeating the Tiger negative speakers with an unanimous vote Hillyard clinched the city championship.

On January 30 our teams defeated Dear Park and the next day triumphed over Central Valley, thus securing the state title also.

The post-season debate against Yakima was one of the most important conflicts in which we participated. Yakima held the championship of the Yakima valley, so that Hillyard was contesting a dangerous team of debaters. This debate was held in our own auditorium March 21 and the Panthers won by an unanimous decision.

BANQUET IS HELD

The annual banquet was held at the Dessert Hotel on Friday, January 31. Seventy people attended the banquet.

Hillyard's debate teams are as follows:

Affirmative: Florence Johnson, Kathryn Youngman and Robert Rothwell.

Negative: Eric McDavis, Benton Gillingham, Armonde Albo, Peggy Walker and Ursula Valiquette.

Boys' Federation

Upon entering high school every boy is automatically made a member of the Boys' Federation. The chief purpose for the organization of the Federation is to give the boys an opportunity to discuss and improve their own and school conditions.

A traffic squad was organized to eliminate traffic congestion in the runways. The paddle squad which is for the purpose of foiling "gate crashers" functions at athletic events held on Harmon field. The hall patrol has operated very efficiently again this year. The boys have maintained the fire squad which has greatly improved the efficiency of our fire drills.

This year the Boys' Federation organized a "Father and Son" Mixer, which proved so very successful that it promises to be an annual affair. Its chief aim is to develop a better feeling among the boys and promote school spirit.

The Federation has made special effort to keep the school grounds clean and to help assist boys in part time employment.

In connection with the Girls' League, the Boys' Federation has worked in attaining and giving parties for the incoming freshmen and have helped in the Red Cross and Christmas seal sale. Many boys took active part in the donation of gifts and money to the Washington Children's Home. The Federation, with the Girls' League put on a pay convocation, the proceeds of which went for the Harmon Field fund.

SCHOOL WELFARE DEPARTMENT

—H—

The School Welfare department resulted from the reorganization of the old Vocational department. Under the old organization the purpose and aim of the department was indefinite and the field of work rather limited; therefore the change was made.

Because the aim of the new department is to help in the development of a "bigger and better" school the name, School Welfare, was chosen.

Assignments of clerks for offices, library assistants, hall patrols, rest room assistants, etc. are made through the department. Hot dog and bar sales other than the candy counter are conducted by the department.

The statistical work in connection with handling the Girls' League honor roll is another duty of the department.

This year the department has found a need for from sixty to seventy girls who are willing to serve their school and capable of taking responsibility.

The department was under the leadership of Camilla Claflin during the first semester and Anita Buhner the second, with Miss McMahan as faculty advisor.

ENTERTAINMENT DEPARTMENT

—H—

In order that girls with unusual talent might display their ability, the Entertainment Department has been established and is under the supervision of Mrs. Youngman. The first semester, Evelyn Irwin held the Chairmanship, with the following girls as sub-chairmen: Peggy Walker, Dramatics; Lillian Steinmeyer, Hostess

The girls of the Social Service Department under the leadership of Faith Helms and Miss Stevens, faculty advisor, organized into the following committee groups in the fall of 1929: Tin Foil Committee with Marjorie Bell as chairman, Courtesy Committee with Donna Dimon chairman, Sewing Committee with Anita Buhner chairman, Big Sister Committee with Jean Koyl chairman, Thanksgiving Committee with Edith Cook chairman, Christmas Committee with Gladys Moe chairman. Mary Troutfetter was elected secretary.

In addition to this Florence Bope acted as program committee, arranging for department meetings talks by Miss Emma Harden, Girl Reserves Secretary, and by Mr. J. D. Meyer, our principal. She also arranged for the general meeting of the Girls' League held in December at which Miss Sibbett of the Washington Childrens' Finding Home talked to us.

SPORTS DEPARTMENT

—H—

The Sport Department, which includes over one hundred girls, is headed by Lucille Huss, this semester and was headed by Evelyn Weaver last semester. The aim of the department is to promote the interest and love for sports and outdoor activities, and also a keen respect and interest in health.

The Sports Department includes five active sub-departments, namely; tennis, hiking, skating health and handy-andy. The tennis department is headed by Lucille Green. The aim of this group is to encourage interest in tennis, which is being accomplished by a ladder tennis tournament open to any girl in the high school who wishes to take part.

Viola Hink heads the hiking group and many girls have enjoyed hikes and picnics which are under the sponsorship of this department.

The skating group, headed by Pearl Miller,

Quill and Scroll has recently become an international organization by the entrance of the Holt school, Liverpool, England. Organized at Iowa City in April, 1926, it has grown prodigiously. It now numbers over 400 chapters with eight thousand of the most promising high school journalists in America wearing the badge of the society.

The most recent celebrity to be admitted to honorary membership is Sir Philip Gibbs, writer and newspaper man. In a cablegram, Sir Philips says, "I am extremely honored by my election to membership of the honor society of school journalists and send grateful and cordial regards."

Hillyard has the distinction of being the first Spokane high school to be granted a charter in this organization. In 1927, the following students became charter members: Hazel Bundy, Verna

Bundy, Ida CaHail, Dolores Crockett, Harold Elsdon, Alice Gibson, Thelma Johnston, Everett Jones, Robert McPherson, Frances Rosis and Cecelia Stevenson.

At present the society has a membership of twenty. These students are of honor rank scholastically, and have been recommended for outstanding work in the editorial or business field, and have been passed upon by the national secretary. Membership is composed of Alick Adams, Faith Helms, Mary Troutfetter, Georgiana Mathers, Gwendolyn White, Myra Lindsey, Lucille Huss, Jean Koyl, Gloria Howard, Irma McDougall, Dorothy Cariveau, Gladys Moe, Gail Hunt, Margaret Olson, Peggy Walker, Dorothy McCormick, Lawrence Estes, Jean Skerry, Charles Welmer and Bob Williams.

Twice each month the Hillyard Hi Times is published by the journalism classes of the high school. The staff is composed of members of the advanced journalism class and a few selected students from the beginning class who show special aptitude for writing.

Five special issues have been published this year: the holiday number, two cub editions, and two specials on the Bond Issue. The most outstanding contribution of the staff was the editing and publishing of 13,000 copies featuring the need for a new high school building. Students distributed copies of all the grade schools in the city, who in turn distributed them to thousands of homes. The Saturday before election day a group of girls "peddled" the edition on the downtown street corners. No single group in Spokane was more elated over the passing of the bond, giving northeastern Spokane a $500,000 school, than was the Hi Times Staff.

On January 16 four students, Lee Austin, Jean Koyl, Mary Troutfetter and Alick Adams were chosen as Police reporters, Front page make up, Telegraph editor, and Copy desk editor respectively for the students edition of the Chronicle.

For the second consecutive year the Hi Times has won a first class honor rating in the annual National Scholastic Press Association contest.

"Miss Cherryblossom," a musical comedy in three acts by May Hawes Dodge and John Wilson Dade, was presented by the Glee Club, December 13.

Her father's secretary uses her property for his own ends. When Evelyn, who is known as Cherryblossom is eighteen, Worthington, the secretary, returns to Japan on his yacht with a party of American friends. One of them, John Henry Smith, falls in love with Cherryblossom and wishes to marry her, but Kokemo, who has brought her up as his own daughter, wants her to marry Togo, a rich Japanese politician. The action of the play centers around Jack's effort to outwit Togo and Kokemo. Eventually Cherryblossom learns her true identity, comes into her own property, marries Jack, and all ends happily.

The Art club with Mr. Hughes as advisor has proved its worth since it was organized September, 1928.

This club has had charge of all posters used by the high school for convocations, meetings and advertising. It helped to sponsor Tony Sarg's Marionettes show given at Lewis and Clark. The members have contributed several pay convocations throughout the year. The cuts for the High Times are looked after by members of this group. Art work in the Annual is entirely in the hands of the club.

The membership of the club is limited to twenty-five with the idea of arousing greater interest in Art work.

Members are: Marjorie Bell, Bessie CaHail, Fred Casten, Helen Carson, Carl Sandstrom, Sarah Camp, George Darroch, Evelyn Renstrom, Florence O'Grady, Helen Wilhelm, Gladys Wickham, Vera Koenig, James Lyburger, Mil-

The Footlights club was organized in 1926 and since then, under the able leadership of J. L. Purdy, has attained the reputation of being one of the best and most active clubs in the school. Membership in this club is recognized as a real accomplishment since the club is one of the outstanding in the school and the membership is restricted. The only students eligible to a place in this organization are juniors or seniors, who have dramatic ability, are interested in dramatics, and whose grades are satisfactory. The club always has a waiting list of candidates who desire election to a place in the club. The number of members is strictly restricted to twenty-four, so that many are disappointed each semester as there are usually but four or five vacancies. The aim of the club is to promote dramatics, improve scholarship and to render service to the school. It can be said that the aim is also being accomplished. During the last year, the Footlights club put on four convocations independently, in addition to furnishing skits and entertainment for various occasions. The first convocation was a one-act play by George Ade, "The Mayor and the Manicure" which was a great success. This play was directed by a student, Evelyn Irwin. The next show consisted of two plays, "So This Is Paris" directed by Peggy Walker, and "The Butler" under the direction of Benton Gillingham. A vaudeville show of four fine skits compromised the next show while the last convocation featured "The Barnyard Sympathy Orchestra" which went over big. The responsibility for the sale of tickets to the Senior and All School plays devolves upon the Footlights club which has always responded with a full house for the evening performance.

In November, 1923, a group of thirteen boys and girls, interested in debate, organized the Harding Debate club, under the supervision of Mrs. Iva Morrison. This small group has spread its interest and enthusiasm for debate and oratory until the club now consists of thirty active members.

One of the outstanding events of each year is the Harding Debate club banquet given on the closing day of the first semester. The purpose of the banquet is to pay tribute to the debate teams. It's popularity may be judged from the fact that 67 students attended this year. Superintendent O. C. Pratt has been the guest of honor for the past two years.

The members of the club have sponsored the organizing of the National Honor Society and the National Forensic League which is the first to be organized in the state of Washington.

During the year 1928-1929 a Student Benefit Fund was started which the members hope to add to each year until it becomes of real value to the school.

This year the club has started a campaign to interest the grade schools, tributary to Billyard High, in debate. A cup, to be known as the "Harding Debate Club Cup," will be awarded to the school winning the championship for three years out of four.

Each year the club finances debate by giving a pay convocation. This year the program consisted of the following numbers:

A comedy farce: Mechanical Jane, by Florence Bope, Myra Lindsay and Mildred Lynch.

Since then the "H" has been awarded to boys who act as managers of the various teams, and to girls who have won tennis letters.

The annual carnival formerly sponsored by the

"H" club was eliminated this year and in its place a pay convocation was presented in which every member took part. Every year the club gives an outing at some lake.

Football

THIS SEASON—AND NEXT

—H—

Looking back, we see a season that might be termed one of the most successful in the history of Hillyard high school. Out of nine games played only two were lost, one of them to Fairhaven, in the fight for state championship by a score of 7 to 0. The spirit of the men, their work during periods of training and the way in which they finished each game regardless of whether or not the score was in their favor, are things of which we may well be proud.

In the season just past, fifteen men played their last games for Hillyard. Captain Bill Haney wound up his high school football career by playing a superior game at guard and was awarded by being chosen on the mythical all-city team. Al Orr played his last game at end, a position that he filled in a manner showing real football ability. Les Hebert played end and finished the season in true Hebert style. Henry and Pete Poffenroth, tackle and center respectively, played their last year of football and turned in commendable records. Dutch Schubbe, "Nig" Wakely and Harry Hodgins are lost to Hillyard as a result of the revision of state eligibility rules. Schubbe played fullback, and won an enviable reputation in that position. Wakely played tackle most of the season, but was shifted to end in the Shrine game. Both of these men were unanimous choices for berths on the all city team. Hodgins played superior ball at halfback and made himself well known by the work of his educated toe and his passing ability.

Allen McBroom, at halfback, ended his football career with a bang, displaying real ability in that position. Kenneth Henderson played tackle with an aggressiveness that will be difficult to duplicate. Roy (Sandy) Sandstrom, playing his first and last season at quarterback, made up in fight and grit what he lacked in weight and stature.

Kenneth James and Mark Bauer won their letters playing end, and were fast and aggressive on offense and defense. Although Roy Poole did not play the whole season he was an easy choice for a place as center on the all-city team. Ray Anderson, another center, finished his high school career this year. Although light, Ray was fast and aggressive. Clarence Castor, quarterback, will be lost to the squad this year having transferred to North Central.

The places left vacant by these men will be hard to fill, but there will be a wealth of material from the varsity and frosh teams. Gilman, Morrison, Umberger, Kelly, Lamping, Freeborg, McDavis, Henry, Baldwin, Poffenroth and many others are among those who are expected to do big things in filling out a winning eleven.

GAIL HUNT DESIGNS CHARCOAL ANNU-AL CUTS

—H—

Gail Hunt, member of the Eleven A class and president of the Puppet club, is responsible for the art work in the Paws and Claws. He spent many weeks in preparing the charcoal drawings which appear as insets. The drawings required extreme care and the most careful attention to detail. When finished they were mounted and photographed.

These drawings include four inset pages, the title page, and In Memorium page. The engraver who completed the art work on the Paws and Claws declared that it is the best job of high school work he has ever handled.

The mounting was done by Margaret McClennahan, Evelyn Renstrom, Gladys Wickham, and Gladys Moe, while John Anderson completed all the lettering.

The Big Sister Committee attempted to make a little smoother the thorny path of the incoming Freshmen of the League. As an aid to better acquaintance an Autumn party was planned and carried out by a central committee consisting of Mary Troutfetter, Florence Bope, and Regina Eastman.

The calendar soon turned to Thanksgiving, at which time a group of interested girls gathered to fill baskets decorated in Hillyard colors with goodies and messages to cheer our stricken classmates at Rivercrest.

The Christmas committee was soon busy with the management of Hillyard's plans for our little friends of the Washington Children's Home. This year two green trees silver with glistening rain, together with gay red stockings filled with candy and nuts, candy canes, peanuts, fruit, vegetables, and personal gifts for each child were accompanied by a group of students who put on a program at the home.

Another committee working quietly and steadily followed our annual custom of making a patch work quilt for a little bed. They had fun, too, for we even heard rumors of an old fashioned quilting party that made play of work.

The Courtesy Committee functioned continuously with its friendly messages to those of the school who were ill and bereaved. A committee headed by Dorothy Corbett, was organized to pass on to another department the entertainment given them by the School Welfare Department.

We feel that the girls of this department have tried to live up to the five ideals set by girls preceding them in this department and thus have themselves grown finer.

extends invitations to every girls in school when they go on their trips.

Last semester Ella Murphy was chairman of the Health group, while this semester Grace Betts heads it. This department takes care of the weights of all the girls in school and checks the underweight ones. Through the efforts of this department, many underweight girls are gaining and we hope will soon be up to their normal weight. An interest in health has been created by posters which the group made themselves and placed in the girl's locker rooms.

Elizabeth Durham heads the handy-andy group whose duties are numerous. They take charge of all gym clothes which are lost, and after these clothes are kept for a certain length of time and have not been claimed, they are sold to the students at a greatly reduced price. The money received from the sale of these gym clothes goes into the Girls' League Fund. Several girls who have graduated have donated their gym clothes for this benefit.

Under the direction of Miss Barger, this department has advanced greatly during the past semester. New committees have been added, and new ideas carried out with great success. The department looks forward to a busy and even more successful year.

HILLYARD-GONZAGA

Hillyard opened the city series with a 2 to 1 win over the Gonzaga nine in an eleven inning battle on the Gonzaga diamond, April 14. The Panthers scored first in the fourth inning when Ceder walked, stole second and scored on Moherly's single. Gonzaga tied the count in the eight when Seale got on and counted on Kock's three-base hit.

The ninth ended in a 1 to 1 deadlock and made necessary two extra innings.

Hillyard sewed up the game in the eleventh canto when James singled, advanced to second on a sacrifice, went to third on an error, and came home with the winning tally on a squeeze play.

Hillyard dropped a close baseball game to the Lewis and Clark nine at Natatorium Park, April 17, 2 to 1.

The game was closely contested throughout, with Ceder and Sanders hooking up a pitcher's duel. Ceder had the better of the argument, allowing only six hits, while Hillyard collected eight safe blows and played errorless ball. Saunders kept the hits well scattered and allowed the Panthers to score but one tally in the eight inning.

During the same afternoon, North Central defeated Gonzaga 9 to 3 by scoring seven runs in the fourth canto.

L. C.—HILLYARD

Banishing the ever resisting jinks, the Panther baseball team downed the Lewis and Clark nine 15 to 14 on Harmon field, April 28.

Though the two rivals have played many close games, this was the first baseball victory ever chalked up by Hillyard against the Tigers.

The day was cold and the game was featured by free hitting by both teams. Del Jones starred at bat getting two homers and a double in five times at the plate. Meyers also hit three out of four including a four base hit. Two Lewis and Clark players hit circuit blows.

Cedar and Bauer did the chucking for Hillyard, while Sanders and Melior formed the Tigers pitching staff.

Sandstrom, James, Jones, Cedar, Meyers, Bauer, Moherly and Green played in the Panthers' first baseball victory over the Tigers.

GONZAGA-HILLYARD

Five home runs featured the game between Hillyard and Gonzaga baseball teams in which the Panthers scored their second win over the Gan-

Cedar and Bauer allowed seven hits and Kearns was nicked for ten safe hits.

Coach Saltz's tennis team romped over Harrington on the Mission courts, April 19, by a total of 3 wins and 1 loss. The Albo brothers and Umberger won their single matches, while Paul Gillingham and Carl Sandstrom dropped their double match to the Harrington pair.

The results of the single matches were: Armonde Albo defeated Talkington 6-3, 6-1; Ariste Albo defeated Armstrong 6-3, 6-3; Tate Umberger defeated Morin 6-4, 6-1. In the double match Armstrong and Morin defeated C. Sandstrom and P. Gillingham 6-3, 6-4.

Perhaps the most familiar, yet least noticed article of furniture of which the school may boast is the bookcase in the studyhall. The doors hang open in a dejected manner as if they had lost all desire to protect the contents of its dusty shelves. The volumes within are very high class of literature, consisting of year-books, dictionaries, encyclopedias and other reference books. On the lower shelf reposes a set of histories, profusely illustrated with free-hand drawings by aspiring young artists who specialize in equipping historical characters with handle-bar mustaches. No picture of Napoleon is considered complete without a well known brand of cigarette hanging from the corner of his mouth. A report of the department of agriculture for the year of 1920 has been opened once since the school acquired it. Upon this momentous occasion, Mrs. Brown announced that any one who was not studying would be forced to stay after school to meditate on his sins. It happened that a freshman had been in the center of a crowd rushing into the studyhall, and therefore had lost his books. So when Mrs. Brown issued her mandate, he rushed to the bookcase and frantically grabbed the first book he saw. It happened to be the report of the agricultural department. So for the next forty-five minutes, the harrassed student vainly attempted to become interested in the welfare of the peanut crop in the district north of Peoria for the fiscal year of 1920.

The students usually find the books containing the results of the U. S. census are of no interest at all unless one draws a line across the bottom of the page and adds up the columns which give the population of our cities. Another use the hardened members of Hillyard high school have devised for this article is the gentle art of pretending to read a book lying on the window sill while they enviously admire the sparrows twittering in the trees outside. Perhaps this little subterfuge is developing some excellent actors in our midst.

Mrs. Brown hovers like a guardian angel over this venerable implement, or perhaps it would be all over the building in the course of a week. When we go to our new building it will probably take us a good many weeks to become accustomed to a new bookcase.

THE RIME OF THE BATTERED JUNK MAN

--H--

(Dedicated to Joe Tewinkel, With Apologies to Sammy Taylor Coleridge)

It is a battered Junkman,
And he stoppeth one of three,
By thy tottering nag and ancient derby
Now wherefore stopps't thou me?

The hockshop's doors are opened wide,
And I am due within;
The crowd is met, a bunch I bet,
Mayst hear the merry din.

He holds him with his stout lasso
There was a cart, quoth he.
Unloose me now! you wavering wretch,
I must the auction see.

He grips him with his new store teeth,
The bargain hunter stood,
And listened like a three month's brat,
He'd believe him if he could.

The customer sat on the curb,
The near-by children ran,

It's as sure as 2 and 2 make 4, that more people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind because Goodyear makes the BEST tires. Ride on Goodyears and ride for less money!

And thus spake on that shabby one,
The old and battered Junkman;

The nag was hitched, and well nigh ditched,
And merrily we did roll,
Down the thorofare we pitched
Past many a telephone pole.

The sun came up upon the left,
Over the hill came he,
And he shone bright and in the night
He nearly fell on me.

At length did cross a horse-fly,
Thru the dust it came,
As if it had been a heathen soul
I called it a certain name.

It chewed the horse it ne'er had chewed,
And round and round it flew;
The plug did shie with wild eye,
Anon he puffed and blew.

A good south wind sprung up behind,
The horse-fly caught the colic,
And every hour day after day
Around the brone he'd frolic.

God save thee battered Junkman!
I cannot tell a lie!

I chewed a hunk of Masterpiece,
And spat upon the fly.

And the good south wind blew behind,
But no horse-fly did follow,
For many a day the plug munched hay;
I could but stand and bellow.

And I had done a hellish thing,
And it would work me woe,
For it was I who drowned the fly
Which made the cayuse go.

Ah, wretch! today the fly to slay
That made the horse to go.

All in a hot and copper sky,
The bloody sun appeared,
Above the nag it took a stand
And well nigh scorched my beard.

Day after day, day after day,
We strnck, nor did we profit;
And I in circles tottered round,
The horse cared not to stop it.

Sacks and bottles everywhere,
Verily I did bawl,

"If it is style
We Have It"

Hats and coats most everywhere,
And naught wherewith to haul.

In vain I have searched for a horse-fly,
It seemeth they all are dead;
It used to be all horse-meat,
And now it's tin instead.

I'm just a battered junk-man,
Seeking a horse-fly it's true,
And to aid me in my lofty quest,
I'd like a buck from you.

ODE TO A HERMAN'S BOOK
(With Apologies)

—H—

I hurled a book into the air;
It fell to earth I knew not where,
For he who hurls a Herman's book
Cares not to give another look.

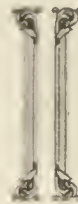

I breathed a curse into the air,
It found the book and tarried there,
For who gives Herman's any boost,
Or cares a hang where it shall roost?

Not long after, by some chance
The book once more did meet my glance;
Both book and curse again I threw,
Because the stuff I never knew

ERNIE JINNETT'S GALLOP

Dedicated To The Editor of The "Paws and Claws"

(With Great Gusto)

—H—

Oh hist all ye freshmen; we'll tell you, you bet
Of the noon-tide gallop of Ernie Jinnett
On the thirty second of April, in 1945,
Hardly a teacher is now alive
Who recalls that famous day as yet.
He said to John D. Meyer "If the noble seniors skip
By auto car or horse cart from the schoolhouse doors today
Swing a blow-torch aloft from cupola
Of the annex building, and give them away—
One if by auto and two if by cart,
Round the school I will pace so slow,
Ready to hinder and harry their start,
Through every plate glass window we'll go
And warn the store keepers to hide all their dough."

He said "Good-by" and with downcast face
Gloomily trndged to his chosen place,
Just as the sun rose over the spires,
By Bonner's flivver with its flattened tires;

A dainty crate with its crumpled tin
Which, when started, makes such a din.

Meanwhile John Meyer through alley and street
Wanders and watches with eager ears
Till in the silence around him he hears
The muster of seniors, with panther hearts,
The sound of cheers and the tramp of feet
Then came the seniors, the little dears,
Marching down to their autos and carts.

Then climbed the roof of the old annex
By the wooden stairs with stealthy tread
To the reputedly weather tight roof overhead
Where the flighty pigeons did bother and vex.

Meanwhile, impatiently, over his route,
Ernie Jinnet did stomp about.
On the opposite curb he took his stance;
On the study-hall door did rest his glance.

He heard the seniors cry "whoopola"
Then shifted his gaze to the cupola,
As it rose above the annex roof
Neither lonely nor spectral but quite aloof.

And lo! As he looked on the cupola's height,
A glimmer, and then a gleam of light!

John Meyer the roof of the cupola braved;
The blow-torch thrice around he waved!

A scrape of tires on Regal Street;
A thundering roar as Ernie swept by;
And beneath, from the street, a spark flew high;
Struck out by a bike flying fearless and fleet.
That was all! And yet through village and town
The skipper's avenger was peddling them down!
And the spark struck out by that bike of renown
Put the fear of Jinnet in the senior's retreat.

It was twelve by the study-hall clock
When he passed the Regal Confectionery;
His passage caused the walls to rock;
The breathless speed his wind did take;
Upon his brow the sweat did break.
He'd overtake the seniors wary.

It was one by the whistle in the shop
When past the Rialto he did fly;
He thought the pursuit had become a flop.
When the seniors' rear guard he did spy.
The Rialto windows blank and bare
Melted beneath his threatening glare.
Fearing his presence a threat of mayhem
The seniors fled and naught could stay them.

It was two by Ernie's Big Ben
When by Shultze's corner he did skid;
The seniors rear guard saw him then;
He'd win the race unless they did.
And so with greater zeal they fled,
Wishing they all were home in bed;
Of their fearless pursuer they could not be rid
One poor wretch stumbled; his fate was sealed
Up to him Ernie swiftly wheeled.

You know it all. In this verse you have read
How Ernie after them speedily sped;
In mid career the seniors fell,
And Ernie consigned them all to—40 minutes.

Yours sincerely,
